WHAT'S ON SHOW?

Amelie Kelly, "Professional Development – What the Puck???"

Professional development isn't just about acquiring the right credentials just at the moment when you most need them. It's about using the tools acquired along the way on a regular basis. It's a case of use 'em or lose 'em.

Anne Hendler, "Let's Reflect On That: what how and why of reflective practice."

Reflective practice is for everyone. It can help increase awareness about what happens in our classes. In this session you will be introduced to reflective practice and guided through a method of reflection. I hope you will come away with an understanding of how reflection can benefit you in your daily teaching.

Renata Love Jones, "Achieving meaningful language learning through assessment."

The term assessment can strike fear in the hearts of even the most skillful and prepared learners. Furthermore, assessments are often avoided and underutilized in many language classrooms because of the "unreliability" of many instruments and a general feeling of high stakes testing overuse. This presentation will highlight the importance of assessments in language learning as well as opportunities for integration into classrooms.
