

Copyright Agreement

Korea TESOL Journal

The AUTHOR, by submitting their material(s) to Korea TESOL (KOTESOL) for publication considerations in the Korea TESOL Journal, hereby releases all copyright ownerships and permissions to KOTESOL, contingent upon publication by KOTESOL within one (1) year of receipt. The AUTHOR is individually and personally responsible for obtaining permissions in cases of prior publication in whole or part for any copyright infringements within the materials. Such permissions should be in written form, and included in the original submission. Absence of such permissions in no way relieves or reduces the sole liability of the AUTHOR, should copyright issues arise.

KOTESOL will advise the AUTHOR of submitted materials within three (3) months following submission deadline of intent to publish and form of the publication. Prior to notice of intent to publish, the AUTHOR has the right to withdraw their submission.

As the Korea TESOL Journal is a members' benefit, it is available online to KOTESOL members as member-only access for one (1) year after publication. Accordingly, after publication, the AUTHOR agrees to not post their included materials online through social media and similar websites during this time period. After this time period, KOTESOL agrees to grant reprint rights to all requesters, subject to concurrent approval by the AUTHOR; however, this stipulation does not include social media websites. Nevertheless, the AUTHOR shall make pro forma requests to KOTESOL for copyright release prior to reprinting the material(s) in any form. KOTESOL shall also make such pro forma request to the AUTHOR for copyright release prior to reprinting the materials. Any reprint of the material(s) shall bear the phrase "reprinted with permission from the Korea TESOL Journal," or other similarly worded phrase, and shall include the volume and number of the issue the material(s) appeared in.

KOTESOL's right of publication shall extend from the initial production to maintenance of the materials in an electronic media "library," such as an internet-based webpage, to production of permanent electronic media such as CD-ROM, so long as the material(s) are maintained similarly to first-published.
